RE: Troops to Teachers

Currently, Indiana is one of five states that do not have a Troops to Teachers office or a support agreement with another state. We have been contacted by the Michigan Department of Education and the Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) to partner with Michigan to provide Troops to Teachers in Indiana. The Military Department of Indiana supports this partnership. The role of the Indiana Professional Standards Board is described in the memorandum of agreement with the Michigan Troops to Teachers program.

Recommendation: Staff recommends that the Board approve the signing of the agreements with the Michigan Department of Education and the Military Department of Indiana to support Troops to Teachers in Indiana.
